MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE NATIONAL HOTEL AND THE CITY OF RALEIGH, AS SEEN BY A VISITOR -The Editor of the Masonic Journal of Greensboro was in this city during the recent session of the Gales, W. T. Faircloth, Rev. C. H. Grand Lodge of the State, and on his return home has this to say among other things:

"It affords us real pleasure to add our testimony to the superior manage-ment of the National Hotel by its present proprietor, Col. C. S. Brown, than whom a more genial and accom-modating landlord is not to be found His rooms are well furnished, neatly kept, conveniently arranged, and at-tended by polite and trusty servants. His table are a marvel of attraction to the wayfarer, they being supplied with everything afforded by the home market and the liberal contributions of distant cities. Being conveniently located near the Capitol, and for home like comfort and kind attention we cheerfully recommend the National Hotel and its gentlemanly proprietor, Col. C. S. Brown.

We once thought, years ago, that the two last places in America for outdoor comfort were Raleigh and Enfield, but under the guiding hand of reform and advancement Raleigh has been thoroughly redeemed. Her streets and walks are nicely paved, and the latter under the fiat of fashion are cleanly swept. A passing glimpse at Enfield revealed the fact that she has put on the garb of a neat, cleanly little town, and is blessed with abundant prosperity.

THE DESTRUCTIVE FIRE AT THE TOKAY VINEYARD.—The Fayetteville Wide Awake of Wednesday gives the following particulars of the late fire at the Tokay Vineyard near that town: "Yesterday the Wine House and Press at Tokay Vineyard, three miles north of Fayetteville, together with several large casks of wine, were consumed by fire. Messrs. T. J. Jones, one of the proprietors, and A. McBuie, the superintendent, were in the cellar of the house while the roof was burning, and barely escaped the

The building caught, it is presumed, from a spark from the heating furnace, and when discovered the flames were rapidly spreading. The alarm was given immediately, but before assistance could be obtained the fire had reached the interior of the house rendering the removal of any of the contents an absolute impossi The vineyard is the property of Messrs. T. J. Jones and H. R. Horn, and was insured to the amount of $14,250. The loss, over and above insurance, is supposed to be between $5,000 and $10,000. In strenuous effort to subdue the flames and rescue some of the goods Mr. McBuie sustained serious injury, and Mr. Mallett fell prostrate from over-heat and exhaustion.

BEAR TO THE RIGHT .- The follow. ing bit of information which we take from an exchange will bear the thoughtful perusal of a large class of persons:

How many would be avoided in the daily walks of life if everybody would "bear to the right as the law directs." For instance: when the pastors of two churches pronounce the doxology at the same moment, and the congregations happen to meet on the same sidewalk, how delightful it would be if the colliding parties would bear gracefully to the right. Especially is this desirable when a gentleman and lady are walking arm in arm -The difficulty of the situation would be still further relieved if they would unlock for a moment and walk single file until the pressure is over. The confusion which is produced almost every Sabbath by the contact of persons returning from the various churches would be greatly relieved by a little attention to the legal direction, and some study of the elementa ry principles of military tactics.

A FINE PIECE OF WORK-A HAND-SOME PRESENT.-Mr. John Armstrong, book-binder, of this city, yesterday presented the NEWS office with a ledger which is the handsomest specimen of binding we have ever seen done at the South. It is a book of 800 pages, accurately and intricately ruled, elegantly bound in the best Russia leather, embossed in high relief, and beautifully and tastefully gilt and lettered. Our thanks are tendered to the skilful workman whose excellence in his art can scarcely be surpassed in the whole country, -certainly not south of Mason and Dixon's line.

THE PEANUT TRADE OF PETERS-BURG.—The Cockade City of Vir ginia is running a race with Wilmington. The Index Appeal says: "In the last monthly report of the Agricultural Department at Washington, we find published, as will be seen in another article, some statistics of the present crop of Virginia as furnished by Mr Rowland, of Norfolk. The receipts at Petersburg for the year ending September 30th, 1875 put down at between 15,000 and 16,000 bags, which we learn from one of our prominent dealers here is a great error and far below the actual receipts; we are informed that be-25,000 and 30,000 bags were handled by our dealers during the period stated; and that since that time nearly 8,000 bags have been re-ceived here."

DEATH OF A CONVICT.-The Shelby Banner of recent date says:

"Thomas Gladden, who was convicted at the last term of the Superi or Court of this county for murder Calvin Rippy, and sentenced to 10 years in the penitentiary by his Honor Judge Schenck, died in the penitentiary hospital on the 6th inst. last Saturday week. Gladden was in very declining health while in jail at this place, and was expected to live but a short time when he left the jail several months back for the Pen."

PAYMENT OF COUPONS.-We learn that Mr. Mickle, of Chapel Hill, will be in Raleigh on Tuesday next, for that and the following week, to pay coupons in the Swazey case, under pons will please take notice.

THE MATRIMONIAL MARKET .-Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, of whom we have often had occasion to speak as a "cussed old batchelor." opposed to both women and babies, and who believes that matrimony should only be indulged in by heathens or Mormons, makes his latest effort at wittleism at the expense of the gentler sex in the following quotation of the matrimonial market of Charlotte, which will be appreciated by those acquainted with the business phrase use in a cotton mart.-Says this Localist:

During the Fall months our matrimonial market has been dull and papathetic; the offerings were light and but few transactions to note. During the past few weeks considerable activity has prevailed, mainly on account of additional receipts from the East and Southwest, and "spots" have been in demand.— "Futures" have declined, owing to advices of "heavy shipments" the North and East-to arrive during the present and coming week. Thes new arrivals are all "high grades" and none will class below fair-new classification. Owing to the demand for the best grades, there has been a marked decline in "low middling" and ordinary, which decline is closely watched by our "spinsters" and "the bears," and it is reported in certain circles, that these two interests have combined to make a "corner" on January contracts. The "new crop" is coming in freely, and our market must necessarily de-cline, unless some foreign demand . A meeting of "brokers" was arises held in Stumptown on Monday night, and several new members were ad mitted. Mr. Thompson, chairman of the committee on credentials, re ports no change in the price of licen-ses, which are held firm at $2. "Minister's fees" range from $5 to $100, and are generally on private terms. Magistrate's fees very low and no demand; prices nominal at 15@25

THE BERGERS .- Tucker Hall was crowded last night to witness the first performance of this popular company in Raleigh this season: We have never seen an entertainment give more entire satisfaction throughout-the music was decided. ly pleasant to the most fastidious taste, Miss Emma Berger was fully as charming as of old, and the other ladies of the company added greatly to the pleasure of the evening, the violoncello solo by M'lle Emma Klaisy being simply exquisite. But the feature of the entertainment was the wonderful facial and comic performances of Sol Smith Russell, the entire audience having been convulsed with laughter whenever he made his appearance.

The second and last performance will be given this evening, and to those who would enjoy a good laugh and hear sweet music we would only say visit the Berger family to-nigh weighing probably 180 pounds. A PROPOSED IMPROVEMENT,-We learn that Mr. W. H. Holloman intends to convert the store now occupied by Jos. P. Gulley, Esq. fronting on Fayetteville street, and the one occupied by J. W. Cole in the rear of that of Mr. Gulley, into one large store room, the whole to be occupied by Mr. Gulley. It is also proposed to have an entrance to the floors above from the lower front on Fayetteville street, and thus make the offices on the second and third floors more convenient and desirable. The change proposed will doubtless prove a financial benefit to Mr. Holloman and convenience to his tenants.

A FUTILE ATTEMPT TO BREAK JAIL.—On Thursday night a negro occupant of Wake jail, named Stan ley Stevens, a cotton thief, attempted to make his escape. He succeeded in breaking the bar of his window looking out into the main passage of the bastile. He then attempted to force the main door, but evidently finding his attempts fruitless went back to his quarters. The attempt was discovered by the jailor's inability to unlock the door yesterday morning. The aperture through which Stevens crawled into the passage is only seven inches wide, and the wonder is how he managed to squeeze himself into it. He left bloody stains behind him and his body is bruised and lacerated in various places. He is a stout darkey.

A TEMPERANCE ORACLE.-Mr. George M. Dutcher, of Leominster, Massachusetts, whose ability as a temperance orator is highly spoken of by many journals and distinguished men of the North, is making a tour of the United States in the interest of temperance reform, and we learn he will be in this city on the 27th inst., and will lecture at Tucker Hall. The Elmirs (N. Y.) Gazette says of him:

"Mr. Dutcher is a reformed man, and speaks from bitter experience. Such addresses as that of Sunday good. He is creating a healthy pub-lic sentiment. The evening are calculated to do great lie sentiment. The church was crowded."

A NEW LOCATION.-Mr. L. R. at smallest possible profit. Wyatt has purchased the stock of groceries of Mr. J. M. White, located on Wilmington street immediately east of the Market house, where he will conduct in the future a grocery and commission business. Mr. Wyatt was late of the firm of Wyatt, Bing-

Value of Covered Manure.

At various times we have pointed out to our readers the profit resulting from covering manure, instead of al lowing it to get soaked by the rains or dried by the sun, as is generally done. We have given this advice from what we have actually seen. When rough sheds have been built to cover the manure heap, the crops fertilized by this pile have been increased in productiveness sufficient to pay for the shed covering the first We have never seen any exact figures of the proportionate value of covered manures that we remember, until the following, which we flud by Lord Kincard, a Scotch landowner and farmer. Ex-PRESIDENT DAVIS ON SCOT-LAND.—Mr. Jefferson Davis made a long address at the banquet of the St. Andrew's Society in Memphis, Tenn., on Tuesday night, 30 ult. He responded to the toast, "Scotland and the Scottish People," and in begin-ning said: "My first visit to Scotland was when the clouds of adversity had gathered over me of the dark est hue, and when my heart constantly and sorrowfully turned back to my own distressed country. I sailed from London for Edinburgh, and when within sight of Scotland, tra ditions, one after another, associated themselves with the visible objects. Here I saw the towers of Tantallon the battlements of which still looked down upon the deep, as if keeping watch and ward as when Douglas there held semi-royal state, and these enduring monuments and landmarks awoke memories of history, tradition and romance until arriving at the old town of Dun Edin, I met there that welcome which made me feel if I Mourning Dress Goods, Were not an American to be a Scotchman.'.

A Health-Premoting Stimulant.—
Physicians, woo cer sinjy ought to be the best judges of such matters, declare that wholesome stimulation is not desirable, but essential in many instances. When the temporary good effect of a sound stimulant is confirmed and rendered permanent, as in the case of Hostetter's Stor ach Sitters, by the action of tonic and alterative principles combined with it, it becomes infinitely more effications as a renovant of physical energy and a corrective of those conditions of the body which invite disease. The Bitters have received the emphatic sacction of mg iteal men who have a barved the effect of that popul or stimulative cordial as a remedy for weakhave observed the effect of that popul or stimulative cordinia as a remedy for weak-ness, nervousness, dyspepsia, constipation, inactivity of the liver, malarious fever, and many other disorders. OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPON. DENCE.

We presented yesterday the first of a series of letters with which our readers will be regaled during the session of Congress. They come from a gentlema xperience in political affair, and of a mental culture so rare as to give his letters inexpressible attraction. Acute, observing, and intelligent, we felicitate ourselves upon the acquistion of such a correspondent, and our readers upon the richness of their weekly into the Senate of . In the docbefore the inquisition, it can be ship masters whose vessels had been said, "but it still moves." The prin- les royed, and who, in candid judgtal with his superfluous patriotism.

THE WHISKEY FRAUDS.

Wider and wider spreads the circle of guilt, and deeper and deeper are sounded the depths of corruption. Wednesday's dispatches tell us that the Chicago investigation brings to light something more than local rascality. The operations there were, as those in St. Louis, instigated by the same central power at Washington, and the stupendous robbery was shared with the same men to whose integrity was entrusted the direction of the revenues. The people have been shamelessly robbed by their guardians. They have been deyoured by those they had chosen to protect them. Their protectors have become a party with the spoilers. Let the people remember this-that the Republican administration has wasted the substance of the the National transmit; and that brought to punishment, the highest | the results of this demand, resulted in power in the land interposes his will, and strikes down the right arm of the prosecution and stifles member these things and persist in the determination to effect reform. Let them not be diverted from their purpose by any of the new issues the Republican leaders are now so anxious to make to turn attention | knew the war was over. away from the misdeeds of their party, and the crimes of its administration.

THE ANTI-CATHOLIC MOVE.

MENT. If any faith is to be given to the letters of Mr. Foster, and to other information on the same subject, the efforts of Grant for a re-nomination have been secretly made in a most dangerous direction and by the mot dangerous methods.-First, in the hostile attitude taken against a religious denomination, and second in the secret mode in which that hostility has been organized. And this organization is neither idle nor powerless, since the Order of United Americans, or the secret Anti-Catholic Order, carried the city of Newark, which is essentially Democratic, by a majority of 4,000 for the Republicans.

When religious differences be-

elements are introduced into politieal warfare, because a political struggle becomes one in which the passions and the emotions of men become the weapons of the conflict. Reason is abandoned, and argument is laid aside. The danger is greater when the fuel of warfare is laid in secret, to burst in sudden and unexpected flames when the match is applied. We are not prepared to say how much of the Foster letter is true, or how well grounded is the threatened danger. But it is apparent from Grant's formal appeal to religious prejudices, that he is ready to make religious strife the hand-maiden of his ambition. It is equally apparent from the decided action of the burned ship Jirch Swift, refer Bishop Haven, that Grant did not count without his host, but that he anticipated the echo to his sent .ment. These are side issues, introduced for two objects, the one to farther his own ambition; the other to div-come the hope and strength of parties, then the most deplorable of all ert attention from the offences of himself and his party. The people have but one concern, and that is to push steadily on the column of aggression upon the Republican party, and purge the country of what is its ruin and its shame. Let none of these side issues divert them until the great work of regeneration is

THE WADDELL CASE.

We received from San Francisco by yesterday's mail, extracts from the San Francisco Erening Post, which we publish in another column. The subject has taken a much wider latitude than the mere pretensions of the Hawaian government warranted. It has brought up the whole ques. tions of the legality of the proceed-Menton's resolutions introduced ings of Captain Waddell after a certain period, at which he is alleged to trine of see sold to so nuch pow- have been in possession of a knowder wasted. The practice was for- ledge that the war had closed. This ever extinguished, as Morton would is a serious phase of the transaction. have reaffirmed, by the suppression | The allegations to this effect are of the rebellion. But the principle made by ex-Senator Cole in his is inextinguishable. It may be si- character of attorney, and are based lenced by force, but with Galileo altogether on ex parte statements of

But its practures as was the Captain of the Alina | the 29th of June. Such is the testitice is self-evident destruction in who declared the war closed a year respect to nationality. It will apterior to that event to save his him an opportunity by examining probably never be mooted again, property. Motives of revenge are Convention. Mr. Morton has wast. | terest, and venge ul passion is aled his thunder and makes no capi- ways ready to seek its opportunity. Against the allegations of Senator

Cole, based upon the unsupported assertions of these ship masters, and a fragment or two of random hearsay statements, Capt. Waddell opposes his own positive denial. His own high character, his professional sense of honor, give his denial the force of conviction. But he argues the question so clearly, his statements are so evidently true that no unprejudical mind will hesitate to accept them as against the interested statements of the ship owners, who in San Francisco, stimulate the assaults upon his character and his conduct.

The reader will be struck with the force of his statement in regard to these same charges of hostility after a knowledge of the cessation of the war. Examined into by a Court of Enquiry in England, the findings were subsequently approved by Mr. Adams, the American Minister, who country in riotous living; that it had every motive to be dissatisfied, has combined with thieves to rob | since Mr. Seward, Secretary of State, through him, had demanded that now at the last, the head and Capt. W. should be held and treatfront of the commee is about to be ed as a pirate. The inquiry, one of complete and honorable exoneration. Another very strong point to disprove the statement that the Captain the voice of justice. Let them re- of the Susan Abigarl conveyed information of the close of the war, is the fact that a portion of her crew voluntarily enlisted on board the Shenandoah—an act of engagement in piratical purposes, if they really

Capt. Waddell shows himself quite as able to cope with his enemies with the pen as with the sword. But he must not be left alone in an unequal struggle, when almost alone in the midst of a hostile population, he is made to suffer thus vicariously. for the sins of his co-patriots of the Confederacy, an assault ungenerously sprung upon where he had no defence but his own undaunted spirit, and the endorsement of the Company of which he is an able official.

The Sacramento Union says that the storm raised in San Francisco against the ex-Confederates in the employ of the Pacific Mail Steamship company has not yet subsided. Dominick Lynch, the first officer of the City of San Francisco, has been removed from his position, and Walter Budd appointed in his place. The latter, it appears, also served the late Confederacy on board the Alabama, and it is thought not improbable that he may also be compelled in his turn to yield his berth to some seaman "untainted with disloyalty."

From San Francisco Evening Post, THE WADDELL CASE.

A Communication from Ex-Senator Cole Reaffirming his Former Allegations, and an Explicit Denial from Captain Waddell.

Editor Post: If there is anything in the world I dislike it is an issue with a person involving the truth, but Captain Waddell in the Post of turday, is reported as saying :

"The Abigail had no papers to prove it, and not long before I had overhauled in the Arc ic, Captain Williams, whose vessel's pame I forget, and he assured me that he had no information about the war being over and that none of the whalers had. As to the statement of Ex-Senator Cole that I had papers on my ship proving the collapse of the Confederate government, I can only say it is an assertion that the facts will not bear out." This broad statement was made by Captain Waddell on Friday and on the same day Captain Williams, of red to by him, was interviewed by a reporter for the Chronicle, which interview was published on Saturday morning. After giving a great many facts more interesting to others than to Waddell, the reporter says: "Capt. Williams was about two hours on board the Shenandoah and during that time had a long conversation with Waddell," and he adds that Captain Williams was phatie in saying that Waddell was supplied with American newspapers with full accounts of the surrender of Lee and the fallot the confederacy. On the cabin table of the Shenan doah were many such newspapers. This is corresponded by other captains now in this city."

If Captain Waddell did not intend to prevaricate and I do not think he did, he referred to the Susan Abigail and not the Abigail, in his statement to the Post reporter; for the Abigail was burned May 27th, while Capt. Webaus' ship was "overhauled" and burned on the 22d of June and the Susan Abigail on the 23d, the day

The owner of the last named vessel, respectable merchant of this city, says that her captain, F. S. Redfield who is now temporarily absent, did furnish Waddell with San Francisco newspapers containing a full account of the surrender of Lee, the murder of Lincoln and the proclamation of peace. The Susan Abigail left San Francisco for the whaling ground on the 27th of April, with news to that date. The Rebellion had collapsed n the 8th or 9th of April and colu was assessmated on the 14th of the same month. The information of the close of the war, either from the Susan Abigail or other vessels leaving port after that event, quickly spread throughout the Arctic fleet.

have testified in Alabama claims cases that Captain Waddell went on burning vessels, and did actually burn the larger part of the northern whaling fleet after he had been in formed of the close of the war as fully as the information could be conveyed to him through any other than a British channel. The fact is that fifteen large ships were burned and four mony, but if Captain Waddell wishes to contradict it I will cheerfully give tice any more than I have to him to misrepresent the cases of clients I was not on the Shenandoah and am not a witness myself. I base my opinion upon the statements of others. But Captain Waddell was there, and can very properly be sworn. In that case h plain what he means by such expressions as "authentic news," statement of disinterested and also what he means by saying It would have been treason for m have acted otherwise than I did. I might ask, treason to what? Certainly not to the Government that had generously educated him for its naval service; nor treason to Great Britain, otherwise she would not have paid for the ships destroyed and damages to all on board of each from captain to eabin boy. Nor, yet, treason to the Confederacy, for there was no Confederacy, nor had there been for months. When the Jaireh Swift was boarded Captain Williams said to the officer from the Shenandoah : San Francisco and Honolulu papers showing that the war has ended, and he called attention to the Sandwich Island extra, which he hadnailed to the bulkhead. "Well, don't make any difference," said the officer, after scrutinizing the paper. "Waddell will burn your ship any.

Now, what I suppose Captain Waddell means by his denial is that he did not consider anything he saw in the San Francisco papers as "authentic news," and that he did not con-sider the statements of a hundred or more officers of American vessels as the statements of disinterested parties." But how about the "Sa idwich Island Extra?" The news certainly ame from a disinterested source.

No one in public or private life has een more averse than myself "tokeeping alive the bitterest recollecions of the war," but there are some matters of history in connection with it that ought not to be perverted; and when they affect my clients I must ee to it that they are not perverted, C. COLE.

CAPTAIN WADDELL'S DENIAL. On receipt of this letter a Post re-

orter was detailed to give Captain Waddell an opportunity to make any explanation he should see fit. He said: "There is not a particle of truth in the statement that Captain Williams, of the Jaireh Swift ever handed me papers announcing the close of the war. On the contrary, no matter what he may say now, he told me that he did not know if the war was over or not. Captain Williams had no papers; but even if he had, ex-Senator Cole is too good an international lawyer not to know that it would be treason on my part to dismantle my ship, acting on in-formation supplied by the enemy. The law of nations supports me in everything that I have done. In regard to the Sandwich Island extra. I never saw that paper. If I was a pirate, why was I not tried for my offense at the close of the war, or at some subsequent period?"

"Have you anything to say, Cap-tain, in reference to Mr. Cole's proposal that you should verify statement on oath?" inquired the re-"Certainly not. My word is as good as that of ex-Senator Cole; he has no 1 for $6.50. Pills and Ointment $1.25 for any such purpose. He is not my judge any more than I am his, but with the permission of the Post I will reply to all his charges by letter. Those made through a rosti

ose made through a portion of the press are too low to be noticed. The conduct of the Alta I consider very strange. I attribute it to a desire to injure the Pacific Mail Company through me. You have seen the fresh charges made in a Saturday paper, Cap-

"Yes. I am called a bully and a bruiser. I am neither one nor the other. I never abused a man in my I never had a row in any hotel in Hongkong. Ineither smoke, chew nor drink. I was never reported to the Naval Department for any offense, nor was I ever sent home in the John Ad ms to be courtmartialed. changed and went home in her for my passage,"

Captain Waddell's Reply to Fx-Senator Cole's Charges.

Editor Post: -So many different and contradictory statements have been made by the various newspapers of San Francisco in regard to my proceedings as commander of the Shen-andoah, that I am glad so responsible gentleman as an ex-member of the United States Senate (even in the capacity of counsel for clients who are not and cannot be affected in regard to their legal rights by any statement may make or leave unmade has come forward to join issue with me in regard to facts. Ex-Senator Cole attempts to make one point and one only that is per-tinent to the subject in hand. That point is that having evidence which ought to have satisfied an officer in my position that "the war was over" I yet continued with malice aforethought to discharge the duties assigned me. Now what are the proofs the gentleman offers to sustain that position? Simply the statement of an unnamed 'merchant of this city, who is said to have been told by a Captain F.S. Rendfield, at present 'temporarily absent," that he had supplied me with "San Francisco papers, dated the 27th of April, containing a full account of the surrender of Lee, the murder of Lincoln and the proclamation of peace," and secondly that Captain Williams had made a somewhat similar statement to a Chronicle reporter. I desire to be perfectly fair in stating the gentleman's position and I believe I am so in the foregoing. Now for my answer. First I deny in toto that I received a single San Francisco or any other paper containing any such statements. It is true that verbal allegations were made to me from my first capture to the last that "the war was over until I fell in with the English bark Barraconta on the 2d of August, no authentic report or statement, back-ed by evidence worthy of a moment's credence, me. If that emphatic was ever offered statement made, on faith and honor of a gentleman, use is confirmation, then the secondary testimony may be offered, A number of credible witnesses It is claimed that the Susan Abiguit gave me evidence that the war was over, yet it is a fact that a portion of nandoah. Is it, I ask, for a moment to be believed that men who "knew the war over" would desire to render themselves liable to be hanged as pi Again, the statement of n is not now offered by me for the first time. It was made before the British Court of Inquiry, remains as a portion of the archives of that country, was substantiated by the evidwas approved by the court, and accepted by Mr. Adams. Suppose, for unless in some future Hartford quite as powerful as those of self innience. He can be assured that I have no disposition to do him injus.

Yet it ought not to be forgotten that the other side were in the same plight, though to a ore limited degree. The vessels saintaining the blockade off the Southern States were at sea many days after the capture of Bichmond and it might be urged against them, if the line of argument which is used against me is to prevail, that they wickedly kept the people of the South without food 'after the war was over," though far be it from me o make any such charge. I regret that one word that savors of a person al character should seem to be demanded of me before taking leave of Mr. Cole. He says that "if I wish an opportunity to make my statement, will give me an opportunity by examining me under oath." Without questioning the little matter of

The estimates of 4,100,000 bales of cotton for this year are beginning to be pretty generally received as correct, which will be one of the heaviest crops ever made. The consumption of cotton, too, is greater now than it was a year ago, and there is every indication of a prosperous season. As this article forms the bulk of our export trade, the importance of the South to the Union may be very readily estimated, and as peace and good government increase the crop, how necessary for the good of the country that the South should be restored to all its rights, and privileges
